College Library

Welcome to the Indraprastha New Arts Commerce and Science College Library, a vibrant hub of knowledge, learning, and resourcefulness. Our library is designed to support the educational and research activities of our students, faculty, and staff by providing an extensive collection of materials, cutting-edge facilities, and exceptional services.

The Central Library and Digital Library, located on the ground floor of the Indraprastha New Arts Commerce College in Wardha, spans an impressive area of 6,750 sq.ft. This facility is a cornerstone of the college's educational resources, boasting a collection exceeding 23,663 books and volumes accumulated since the college's establishment. The library is equipped with the LIBSOFT 2.0 system, a state-of-the-art integrated library management software developed by the INFLIBNET Centre, ensuring that the management and accessibility of library resources are both seamless and efficient.

A significant feature of the library is its Electronic Resource Management package, which provides access to a variety of e-journals for teachers, researchers, and students. This includes access to resources through NList (developed by INFLIBNET), DOAJ, DOAB, and more. The library supports academic exploration and research across a broad spectrum of disciplines including Arts, Science, Commerce, Computers, Management, and Social Work, through its rich database of e-books, e-journals, and e-PG Patashala modules.

To facilitate easy access to its resources, the library offers a dedicated web-link (http://nacscwardha.org/PDFs/Std/inacsc_DeptLIBS.pdf), where users can find detailed information on new and archived books, a book search facility, journals, e-resources, newspapers, and more. The Web OPAC Module allows for both vibrant in-house and remote access to the library's catalogue and electronic publications, with ID numbers assigned to users for direct access to NList, all connected via a high-speed internet bandwidth leased line by UCN.

The library also hosts an annual User Orientation Program and Nlist Workshop, where new students are introduced to the library's facilities, staff, and various sections. They learn the formal rules for the issue and return of books, and how to utilize reading room facilities, among other things. These initiatives are part of the library's commitment to ensuring that all users can fully leverage the library's offerings.

In 2021-22, the NDLI Club was initiated, further enriching the library's engagement with its users by providing additional resources and learning opportunities.

The library's infrastructure supports a wide range of learning styles and needs. It houses over 73 educational CDs and maintains a reading room capable of accommodating 200 students. The library subscribes to six varied newspapers ranging from local to international coverage and offers reprography services.

The library is not just about books and journals; it actively fosters a dynamic community around learning and literacy. Special events such as National Librarians' Day, Wachan Prerna Diwas, and thematic book exhibitions engage and inspire the academic community. Competitions in book reviewing, general knowledge, and essay writing are organized regularly, cultivating a competitive yet collaborative atmosphere. Recognition is also given through Best Reader Awards and Best User Awards to both students and faculty, highlighting the integral role of the library in educational excellence and community building at Indraprastha College.
